

JAN H. KALICKI

- 1968 – A.B., Government, Columbia College
1971 – Ph.D., International Relations, London School of Economics and Political Science
- 1969-70 – London School of Economics and Oxford University: Tutor in International Relations
1970-72 – London School of Economics: Lecturer in International Relations
1971-72 – Princeton University: Research Associate and Lecturer in Politics
1972 – Harvard University: Lecturer in Government
1972-75 – US Department of State: Foreign Service Officer
1974-75 – Council on Foreign Relations: International Affairs Fellow
1974-77 – US Department of State: Member, Policy Planning Staff
1977-84 – United States Senate: Chief Foreign Policy Adviser to Senator Edward M. Kennedy
1981-85 – Georgetown University: Adjunct Professor of Government
1984-85 – Lehman Brothers: Vice President, Corporate Finance
1985-88 – Brown University: Assistant to the President and Executive Director,
Center for Foreign Policy Development
1985-93 – Brown University: Adjunct Professor of Political Science
1988-99 – Brown University: Senior Advisor/Fellow, Watson Institute for International Studies
1988-93 – Lehman Brothers: Senior Vice President, International Investment Banking
1994-01 – US Department of Commerce: Counselor to the Department
1994-01 – White House: US Ombudsman for Commercial and Energy Relations with the Russian Federation and the New Independent States
2001-14 – Chevron: Counselor for International Strategy
2010- – Eurasia Foundation: Chairman of the Board
2014- – Woodrow Wilson International Center: Public Policy Fellow and Energy Lead

Publications

Numerous articles on China, Russia, international energy and US foreign, national security and international economic policies

The Pattern of Sino-American Crises: Political-Military Interactions Under Stress
(London and Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1975)

Russian-Eurasian Renaissance? US Trade and Investment in Russia and Eurasia
(Stanford, CA and Washington, DC: Stanford University Press and Wilson Center Press, 2003)
Co-edited with Eugene K. Lawson

Energy and Security: Toward a New Foreign Policy Strategy (Baltimore, MD and Washington, DC: Johns Hopkins University Press and Wilson Center Press, 2005) – co-edited with David L. Goldwyn

Energy and Security: Strategies for a World in Transition (Baltimore, MD and Washington, DC: Johns Hopkins University Press and Wilson Center Press, 2013) – co-edited with David L. Goldwyn

2015 Global Energy Forum: Revolutionary Changes and Security Pathways (Washington, DC: Woodrow Wilson Center, 2015) – editor