- Turkish uses the Roman alphabet and is easy to learn.

- Turkey is the world's 12th-largest economy and home to more than 80 million people.

- Turkic languages are spoken across Asia, from Turkey to China to Russia.

- Learning Turkish offers a greater understanding of regional politics, economics, history, and sociology.

- As a Critical Language, Turkish skills are in demand by the State Department, the Intelligence Community (IC), and the business community.

- There is strong governmental support of students willing to learn Turkish through scholarship opportunities including the State Department's Critical Languages Scholarship (<https://clscholarship.org>).

- Brown University is one of the few North American institutions to benefit from a Turkish program.
