Table of Contents

About the Center ..................1
Director's Note ..................2
Events ..............................3
  Inaugural Weekend .............4
  OP Jindal Distinguished
  Lectures ..........................10
  Book Adda ........................14
  South Asia Seminar ............17
  Brown-Harvard-MIT
  Joint Seminar ....................20
  Graduate Student Programming ........22
  Additional Programming & Film Screenings ........24
South Asian Studies ............26
People ..............................28
  Steering Committee .............29
  Visiting Faculty .................30
  Research Partners ..............32
  Fellows ...........................33
  Staff ..............................36
About the Center

Mission
The Saxena Center for Contemporary South Asia promotes research, teaching and public engagement on key issues of modern South Asia in an interdisciplinary framework and in a historically and culturally grounded manner.

About
The Saxena Center is based at the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University. The Center supports faculty, graduate and undergraduate research and teaching on the region and is home to the South Asian Studies concentration.

The Saxena Center functions within the larger framework of the Watson Institute, which is seeking to define a new approach to regional studies for the 21st century. Anchored in the social sciences, this new approach is problem driven, comparative and multidisciplinary. Our multidisciplinarity will include sustained interaction of social scientists with the humanities on the one hand and disciplines such as medicine and public health on the other.

Research & Programs
At this time, the Center’s programmatic and research themes focus on inequalities, development, urbanization, democracy, public health and pluralism & diversities.
Message from the Director

2022-23 was our inaugural year as the Saxena Center for Contemporary South Asia. In December 2021, we received a generous $10 million endowment gift from Parag and Usha Saxena, Brown parents ’13, ’14 and ’15. They had been contributors earlier as well. Their endowment will give us resources in perpetuity, and will allow us to imagine our collective life anew. We can generate new ideas for research, collaboration, teaching and programming, while building on what we already have become known for. We are immensely grateful to the Saxena family.

With members of the Saxena family present, Brown’s President Christina Paxson inaugurated the newly named center. Our inaugural activities included three panels on politics, economics and culture. Our Panelists, many coming from South Asia, covered all countries of the region, including those we have not been able to cover adequately in the past: Bangladesh, Nepal and Sri Lanka. We also had a hugely successful concert by Ali Sethi, followed by his remarkable talk on the culture panel the next day.

The Saxena endowment has already made a new shift in our work possible. We have decided to incorporate the arts in our programming more systematically. This includes extending our gaze to cinema and film artists. We showed several films last year, including the film, Zwigato, by Nandita Das, with her present to interact with our community.

We also hosted TN Krishna, a leading classical musician, who gave a set of talks on his work explaining, among other things, how society and culture interpenetrate each other in South Indian music. Additionally, inspired by a popular demand after Ali Sethi’s concert, we have also invited him to be with us as an artist in residence this fall. He will run a non-credit study group on the art of music in South Asia.

Kamila Shamsie, a Pakistani British novelist, and Shekhar Gupta, currently the editor of The Print and formerly the editor of The Indian Express, were our OP Jindal Distinguished Lecturers last fall. Shamsie covered a rarely discussed subject – the interaction between Hellenic and South Asian cultures through history, and Gupta spoke on “Democracy and Freedom of the Press.” We will pursue the latter theme this fall with a Jindal lecture by Ravish Kumar, who was until recently with NDTV and is a front-ranking Hindi journalist in India.

For the last two years, Arvind Subramanian has been our senior fellow. He has left for a prestigious policy position at the Petersen Institute in Washington. A highly respected and popular member of our community, he will undoubtedly be missed. We expect him to be occasionally involved with our work in the future as well.

Ashutosh Varshney
Director, Saxena Center for Contemporary South Asia
Sol Goldman Professor of International Studies and the Social Sciences
Professor of Political Science
EVENTS
Inauguration of the Saxena Center for Contemporary South Asia
Marginalization and Inclusion in South Asia: Economics, Politics, & Culture

FRI, 9 SEPT 2022
2:00PM | Inauguration by President Paxson & Economics Panel
Chaired by Christina Paxson
Shantayanan Devarajan, Georgetown University
Asim Khwaja, Harvard University
Mushfiq Mobarak, Yale University
Karthik Muralidharan, University of California, San Diego
Sailesh Tiwari, World Bank
5:30PM | Concert by Ali Sethi & Band

SAT, 10 SEPT 2022
10:00AM | Politics Panel
Chaired by Ashutosh Varshney
Avidit Acharya, Stanford University
Pratap Bhanu Mehta, Princeton University
Shandana Khan Mohmand, Institute of Development Studies
Paikiasothy Saravanamuttoo, Centre for Policy Alternatives
Ali Riaz, Illinois State University
2:00PM | Culture Panel
Chaired by Shahzad Bashir & Prerna Singh
Vikram Doctor, Economic Times
Marina Tabassum, Marina Tabassum Architects
Manjushree Thapa, Writer
Ali Sethi, Writer

Joukowsky Forum & Starr Plaza
Watson Institute, 111 Thayer St
SEPTEMBER 9 & 10
Inauguration of the Saxena Center for Contemporary South Asia
Marginalization and Inclusion in South Asia: Economics, Politics & Culture

Following the establishment of an endowment in perpetuity for the Center, in September 2022, the Saxena Center for Contemporary South Asia was inaugurated by President Christina Paxson. The inaugural weekend took place on September 9th & 10th, 2022. It was a full two-day event that brought together regional experts from across the globe and focused on marginalization and inclusion in South Asia. The weekend featured three panels, one each on South Asian economics, politics and culture. While planning for the inauguration, it was important to us to keep the Center’s mission at the core of the entire event, making it a point to include as much cross diversity across South Asia as possible, which is why each panel had an expert on nearly every nation in the region.

The economics panel was organized by Andrew Foster (Brown University) and chaired by President Christina Paxson, featuring Shantayanan Devarajan (Georgetown University), Asim Khwaja (Harvard University), Mushfiq Mobarak (Yale University), Karthik Muralidharan (University of California, San Diego), and Sailesh Tiwari (World Bank).

The politics panel was organized and chaired by Ashutosh Varshney and featured Avidit Acharya (Stanford University), Pratap Bhanu Mehta (Princeton University), Shandana Khan Mohmand (Institute of Development Studies), Paikiasothy Saravananmuttu (Centre for Policy Alternatives), and Ali Riaz (Illinois State University).

The culture panel was Organized by Shahzad Bashir (Brown University) and Prerna Singh (Brown University) featuring Vikram Doctor (Economic Times), Marina Tabassum (Marina Tabassum Architects), Manjushree Thapa (Writer), and Ali Sethi (Writer).

In addition to the three expert panels, the center hosted an outdoor concert featuring award winning Pakistani singer, songwriter and author, Ali Sethi, accompanied by Shayna Esther Dunkelman and Grey McMurray.
Inaugural Reception of Saxena Center for Contemporary South Asia

Christine Paxson, Shantayanan Devarajan, Sailesh Tiwari, Mushfiq Mobarak, Asim Khwaja, Kartihik Muralidharan
OP Jindal Distinguished Lectures

To promote a serious discussion of politics, economics, social and cultural change in modern India, Sajjan and Sangita Jinal have endowed, in perpetuity, the OP Jindal Distinguished Lectures by major scholars and public figures.
Shekar Gupta (The Print)

OCTOBER 14, 2022
The Media & India's Democracy Today

COMMENTATORS:
Ellen Barry, The New York Times
Salil Tripathi, Author
Sadanand Dhume, American Enterprise Institute

Shekar Gupta Founder and Editor-in-Chief of The Print, India's fastest growing digital news platform known for its non-hyphenated liberalism. He is a prolific columnist, with his highly influential weekly column ‘National Interest’ which is translated into five languages. A selection of these columns was collected in the bestselling book, ‘Anticipating India’. Shekhar, a recipient of the Padma Bhushan, hosts ‘Off the Cuff’ – an offering from The Print – which sees him in conversation with an eminent guest twice a month. His daily YouTube show ‘Cut The Clutter’ explains and analyses the big news development of the day from India and around the world.
Kamila Shamsie (Author)

OCTOBER 21, 2022

From Greeks to Indo-Greeks to Greco-Britains: 2,000 years of Hellenic culture in South Asia

COMMENTATORS:
Lina Fruzzetti, Brown University
Saniya Kamal, Brown University
Shazia Rahman, University of Dayton

Kamila Shamsie is the author of eight novels, which have been translated into over 30 languages. Home Fire won the Women’s Prize for Fiction and the Hellenic Prize and was long listed for the Man Booker Prize; Burnt Shadows won the Premio Boccaccio (Italy) and A God in Every Stone won the Anisfield-Wolf Award (USA). A Vice-President and Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature and Professor of Creative Writing at the University of Manchester, she was one of Granta’s ‘Best of Young British Novelists’ in 2013. She grew up in Karachi, and now lives in London. Her most recent novel, Best of Friends, was published in September 2022.
The Simla Accord

Behind the Progress Reports There Is The Possibility of a Secret Agreement

BY JAMES P. STERRA

President Bhutto, Pakistan’s first civilian leader in 14 years, came to Simla ready to compromise. According to sources close to him, he was willing to forsake the Indian-held two-thirds of Kashmir that contains four-fifths of the population and the prized valley called the “Vale,” and agree that a cease-fire line—to be negotiated—would gradually become the border between the two countries. The key word is “gradual.”

President Bhutto wants a softening of the cease-fire line—with trade and travel across it—and a secret agreement with Mrs. Gandhi that a formally recognized border would emerge after a few years, during which he could continue his peace efforts.

Adda means a site for collective deliberation in South Asia. This series features panel discussion of important new books written by our colleagues or those significantly involved with the Saxena Center as intellectual interlocutors.
NOVEMBER 18, 2022
Gopalkrishna Gandhi & Tridip Suhrud — Scorching Love

COMMENTATORS:
Uday Mehta, CUNY
Faisal Devji, University of Oxford

Gopalkrishna Gandhi is a former bureaucrat who has served an illustrious career as a diplomat and held several administrative positions. He has previously served as India's High Commissioner to South Africa and Sri Lanka. He has also served as the 23rd Governor of West Bengal.

Dr. Tridip Suhrud is a renowned scholar in the field of political science and cultural history. He has extensively worked on the life and thoughts of Mahatma Gandhi and the social and cultural history of modern Gujarat. Prior to joining CEPT University, Dr. Suhrud was serving as the Director & Chief Editor of Sabarmati Ashram Preservation and Memorial Trust.

About the book: This book publishes Gandhi's letters to his youngest son, Devadas from 1914, when father and son were both in South Africa to 1948, when they were both in Delhi, the capital of free India where within hours of the last letter Gandhi was assassinated. Gandhi wrote these letters by day, he wrote them by night, he wrote them from aboard trains, steamers, both right and left hands being pressed into service to rest one when tired out. The letters span three decades during which the writer grew from being a fighter for the rights of Indians in South Africa to being hailed as Father of the Nation by millions in India and - opposed by many as well including the man who felled him by three bullets fired at point blank range on 30 January, 1948. The letters hold his aspirations for his son and for his nation. They bear great love and they also scorch.
DECEMBER 9, 2022
Christopher Clary —
The Difficult Politics of Peace

COMMENTATORS:
Christine Fair, Georgetown University
Tyler Jost, Brown University
Asfandyar Mir, United States Institute of Peace

Christopher Clary is an Assistant Professor of Political Science. His research focuses on the sources of cooperation in interstate rivalries, the causes and consequences of nuclear proliferation, U.S. defense policy, and the politics of South Asia. Previously, he was a postdoctoral fellow at the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University, a predoctoral fellow at the Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs at Harvard University, a Stanton Nuclear Security Predoctoral Fellow at the RAND Corporation, and a Council on Foreign Relations International Affairs Fellow in India.

About the book: Since their mutual independence in 1947, India and Pakistan have been engaged in a fierce rivalry. Even today, both rivals continue to devote enormous resources to their military competition even as they face other pressing challenges at home and abroad. Why and when do rival states pursue conflict or cooperation? In The Difficult Politics of Peace, Clary provides a systematic examination of war-making and peace-building in the India-Pakistan rivalry from 1947 to the present. Drawing upon new evidence from recently declassified documents and policymaker interviews, the book traces India and Pakistan's complex history to explain patterns in their enduring rivalry and argues that domestic politics have often overshadowed strategic interests. It shows that Pakistan's dangerous civil-military relationship and India's fractious coalition politics have frequently stymied leaders that attempted to build a more durable peace between the South Asian rivals.
South Asia Seminar Series

This series of public lectures facilitates a convergence of figures from across the lines of academia, civil society, literature, public policy, and journalism to contribute to the discourse on contemporary South Asia.
SEPTEMBER 16
P. Saravanamuttu,
Centre for Policy Alternatives
Sri Lanka in Crisis: Democratic Governance Imperiled?

SEPTEMBER 28
TM Krishna,
Musician, Writer, Activist
Art & Activism - Meaning and Purpose

SEPTEMBER 30
Nayanika Mathur,
Oxford University
Writing the Anthropocene from the Indian Himalaya

OCTOBER 7
Sanjay Kak, Filmmaker
Archives of the Present: Witness in Kashmir and Palestine

OCTOBER 24
Rukmini S., Data Journalist
Whole Numbers and Half Truths: What Data Can and Cannot Tell Us About Modern India

NOVEMBER 7
Zulfiquar Ali Bhutto Jr.
Artist, Environmental Activist
Fazale Rab Lund
Environmental Activist
Marvi Latifi
Women’s Democratic Forum, Activist
Zehra Hashmi
Brown University
Ahsan Kamal
Quaid-e-Azam University
Flooding in Pakistan: Climate Justice, Mitigation and Adaptation

NOVEMBER 11
Projit Mukharji,
University of Pennsylvania
Brown Skins, White Coats: Genes, Castes and Medical Risk in Twentieth-century India

DECEMBER 9
Khadija Nazari, Brown University
Javed Rezayee, Story Producer
Azizullah Royesh, Sheesha Media
“More of us might be killed—but we will win”: Hazara Persecution and Resistance in Afghanistan
FEBRUARY 24
Faiza Moatsim,
University of Southern California
Planning Bureaucracy and its Encroachments: The Making of
Islamabad as a Master-planned City

MARCH 2
Dipti Khera, New York University
Monsoon Downpours: From
Monumental Moods to micro-histories,
C. 1700-1900

MARCH 17
Aasim Khan, Brown University
Zehra Hashmi, Brown University
Prehistories of the Information Age and the Politics in South Asia

MARCH 20
Resuf Ahmed,
University of Lausanne
Does Political Quota Lead To
Development? Evidence From India

APRIL 7
Parismita Singh
Crisis Comics: Drawing and Writing
Non-Fiction in South Asia

APRIL 21
Bhrigupati Singh,
Ashoka University
Is India going through an Opioid Epidemic? Examining Currents of Life and Death in Contemporary India

APRIL 26
Ramachandra Guha, Author
Sport and the Nation: Cricket and the Making of Modern India

MAY 2
Nandita Das, Filmmaker
Screening of ‘Zwigato’ & Discussion with the Director
Brown-Harvard-MIT Joint Seminar on South Asian Politics

The Brown-Harvard-MIT Joint Seminar on South Asian Politics approaches some of the big questions of politics, political economy and security, on which the South Asian region offers engaging perspectives. The series is co-sponsored by CCSA, the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs and Lakshmi Mittal South Asia Institute at Harvard University, and the MIT Center for International Studies.
SEPTEMBER 23
Gilles Verniers, Ashoka University
The Making of UP’s New Politicians: The Elite Roots of Inclusion

OCTOBER 28
Tanu Kumar, Claremont Graduate University
Housing as welfare: How subsidized home ownership generates social mobility through wealth, voice, and dignity in India

NOVEMBER 1
Yamini Aiyar, Centre for Policy Research
Rewriting the Grammar of the Education System: Delhi’s Education Reform

NOVEMBER 4
Vineeta Yadav, Penn State University
How Elite Risk Preferences Shape Democracy: Evidence from India and Pakistan

DECEMBER 9
Christopher Clary, SUNY Albany
Christine Fair, Georgetown University
Tyler Jost, Brown University
Asfandyar Mir, US Institute of Peace
The Difficult Politics of Peace

FEBRUARY 24
Alexander Lee, University of Rochester
The Tragedy and the Paradox: State building in South Asia since 1526

MARCH 10
Erum Haider, College of Wooster
Seeing Like a Business: Privatized Service Delivery and Trust in Urban Pakistan

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE
Director:
Ashutosh Varshney (Brown)
Co-Conveners
Patrick Heller (Brown)
Mashail Malik (Harvard)
Gautam Nair (Harvard)
Vipin Narang (MIT)
Prerna Singh (Brown)
Graduate Student Programming

Graduate students from across the disciplines working on South Asia are a vital part of the Saxena community. Students present their own work, recieve fellowships to support their research and invite speakers to be part of the South Asia Seminar Series.
PRESENTATIONS BY GRADUATE STUDENTS

OCTOBER 27
Muhammad Omar Afzaal, Political Science
Picking Your Battles: A Story of Pakistan’s Perceptions

DECEMBER 1
Jocelyn Bell, Sociology
Reimagining within-movement conflict: Ideology and the anti-sex trafficking movement

FEBRUARY 22
Ieva Zumbyte, Sociology
Adapted Delivery: How Childcare Workers and Parents Produce Care in the Neighborhoods of Chennai

MAY 3
Ahona Palchoudhuri, Anthropology
Classical Everyday: An Anthropology of Music in Rural and Urban West Bengal

EVENTS ORGANIZED BY GRADUATE STUDENTS

SEPTEMBER 30
Nayanika Mathur, Oxford University
Writing the Anthropocene from the Indian Himalaya

OCTOBER 24
Rukmini S., Data Journalist
Whole Numbers and Half Truths: What Data Can and Cannot Tell Us About Modern India
Additional Programs & Film Screenings

The Center continues to host film screenings and co-sponsor events with many departments across campus.
SEPTEMBER 16
Film Screening: A Night of Knowing Nothing

SEPTEMBER 27
TM Krishna, Musician, Writer, Activist
Music Workshop

MARCH 2
Dipti Khera, New York University
Monsoon Downpours: From Monumental Moods to Micro Histories, c. 1700-1900

MAY 12
Film Screening: Joyland

MAY 13
Launch of Desi-gn: A South Asian art publication

MAY 2
Nandita Das, Filmmaker
Film Screening: Zwigato
South Asian Studies

South Asian Studies is an interdisciplinary concentration in which students work across the humanities and social sciences geographical locations and historical periods. The concentration emphasizes both the diversity of South Asia as a region, as well as the long-term historical connection among people and places in Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, India and Sri Lanka.

Courses Sponsored by the Saxena Center

Finnian M.M. Gerety, Religious Studies

SAST 0037: Sensing the Sacred: Sensory Culture in South Asian Religions

SAST 0140: Food, Religion and Politics in South Asia

SAST 0525: The History and Practice of Yoga in India and Beyond

SAST 0526: This Whole World is OM: Mantras in Indian Religions

Arvind Subramanian, Economics

SAST 0750: Understanding the Indian Economy

IAPA 1404: Economic Development in China and India

William Lodge, Public Health

SAST 0700B: Introduction to Modern South Asia: Public Health from Theory to Practice
THESIS PRIZE & UNDERGRADUATE PAPER PRIZE RECIPIENTS

Thesis Prize:

Arts:
Zeeshan Hassan-Andoh ‘23
Lines and Layers: The Formation of Contemporary Miniature Painting

Humanities:
Srinaath Kidambi Perangur ‘23
Translating Tyāgarāja: The Sanskrit Songs of South India’s Most Famous Classical Composer

Catherine Michele Nelli ‘23
On Nineteenth-Century Indology: Divergences Between Sanskrit and Colonial French and English Reception of Jayadeva’s Gitagovinda

Social Sciences:
Catherine Michele Nelli ‘23
Between Empire and Post-Colonial Nation-Building: A Comparative Analysis of Nationalism’s Role in French India’s Decolonization in Chandernagore and Pondicherry (1947-1954)

Undergraduate Paper Prize:

Lucas Fromm ‘23
Conceptions of Liberation: A comparative analysis of how four Indian philosophical traditions conceptualize Moksa

Aalia Jagwani ‘24
The Departure

Adi Thatai ‘23
A Bite of Home: Family Recipes Adapted from the writings of Saramma Kendangath Joseph

Kate Salke ‘23
Yantra and Mantra: Aesthetic, Symbolic, and Ritual Unifiers
PEOPLE
STEERING COMMITTEE

Ashutosh Varshney
Director, Saxena Center
Sol Goldman Professor of International Studies and the Social Science, Professor of Political Science
ashutosh_varshney@brown.edu

Andrew Foster
George S. and Nancy B. Parker Professor of Economics
Director of Social Science Research Institute
andrew_foster@brown.edu

Shahzad Bashir
Aga Khan Professor of Islamic Humanities
Professor of History
shahzad_bashir@brown.edu

Holly Shaffer
Robert Gale Noyes Assistant Professor of Humanities
Assistant Professor of History of Art and Architecture
holly_shaffer@brown.edu

Prerna Singh
Mahatma Gandhi Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies prerna_singh@brown.edu
In the fall of 2018, Finnian M. M. Gerety joined CCSA as a visiting assistant professor for a three year term. He also serves as the Director of Undergraduate Studies for South Asian Studies. Professor Gerety works on texts, rituals, and the senses in South Asian religions, with a focus on Hindu traditions of India. He is especially interested in Sanskrit mantras: how they are performed, textualized, and passed on; how they are embodied and sensed; how they are reflected upon and interpreted; how they are transformed in the digital age; and how they influence identity, community, and heritage within religious traditions. He teaches classes in South Asian Studies, Contemplative Studies, and Religious Studies.

COURSES:
SAST 0037: Sensing the Sacred: Sensory Culture in South Asian Religions

SAST 0140: Food, Religion and Politics in South Asia

SAST 0525: The History and Practice of Yoga in India and Beyond

SAST 0526: This Whole World is OM: Mantras in Indian Religions
Arvind Subramanian was professor of economics at Ashoka University and founding director of the Ashoka Center for Economic Policy (ACEP). He is also a non-resident senior fellow at the Peterson Institute for International Economics (PIIE). He was chief economic adviser to the Government of India between 2014 and 2018. Previously, he was a visiting lecturer at the Harvard Kennedy School.

Prior to his time in India, he was the Dennis Weatherstone Senior Fellow at PIIE, a senior fellow at the Center for Global Development, and an assistant director in the research department of the International Monetary Fund. He also worked for the GATT during the Uruguay Round of trade negotiations. In 2011, Foreign Policy magazine named him a Top 100 Global Thinker.

In 2018, Professor Subramanian published Of Counsel: The Challenges of the Modi-Jaitley Economy, reflecting on his time guiding India’s economy. His previous award-winning book, Eclipse: Living in the Shadow of China’s Economic Dominance has been printed in four languages.

COURSES:
SAST 0750: Understanding the Indian Economy

IAPA 1404: Economic Development in China and India
RESEARCH PARTNERSHIPS

AIIMS PARTNERSHIP WITH BHRIGUPATI SINGH

Since 2015-16, Bhrigupati Singh has partnered with the psychiatry department at AIIMS to explore how the idea of “quality of life” is understood. Since summer 2020, Singh and his partners have been preparing a second round of surveys in urban poor neighborhoods in Delhi based on the World Health Organization’s Quality of Life instrument, [WHO-QOL BREF], a 26-item questionnaire created in 1991 with the aim of creating “an international cross-culturally comparable quality of life assessment instrument.” The second round of surveys will include questions regarding the impacts of COVID-19 in these communities.

JANAAGRAHA PARTNERSHIP WITH ASHUTOUSH VARSHNEY & PATRICK HELLER

The Janaagraha-Brown Citizenship Index (JB-CI) project focuses on measuring the quality of citizenship in urban India by measuring the extent to which Indian citizens can effectively use their civil, political and social rights in cities. The project is a unique and equal partnership in both its concept and execution between academic researchers at Brown University and practitioners from the Janaagraha Centre for Citizenship and Democracy on a crucial contemporary subject.

This year, the JB-CI research team was able to complete a third round of research in Delhi, Kolkata, Lucknow, Bhopal, Bhubaneswar, Ajmer, and Jalandhar. The team also completed reports on cities researched in the previous round; Ahmedabad, Vadodara, Bhavnagar, Mumbai and Kochi. In January 2023, JB-CI held a one-day workshop in Kochi, where they received feedback from government officials, civil society actors and scholars. Additionally, a paper on urban governance in Bangalore, researched in the first round of research, has been published by American Journal of Sociology (AJS) in the July 2023 issue.
SAXENA CENTER FELLOWS 2022-2023

Graduate Students

Osama Ahmad
PhD Candidate in History
Project Title: City of Knowledge: Lahore’s Urdu Bazaar as engine of Print, Urbanity and Self-fashioning
Summer 2023

Muntazir Ali
PhD Candidate in Religious Studies
Project Title: Chitral, 1920-1969: Reorientation, Accession, and Integration
Summer 2023

Micheal Neubauer
PhD Candidate in Economics
Project Title: Caste-based Preferences, Social Pressure and (Statistical) Discrimination in the Labor Market in Village India
Summer 2023

Pamudu Tennakoon
PhD Candidate in History of Art & Architecture
Project Title: Decolonization and Ruination: Archival Research in the UK
Summer 2023
William Lodge
PhD Candidate in Public Health
Project Title: Co-occurring factors impacting ART adherence among transgender women in India
Winter 2022

Ahona Palchoudhuri
PhD Candidate in Anthropology
Project Title: Malhar and Mannat: The Framing of a Musical Request
Winter 2022

Fred Shaia
PhD Candidate in Political Science
Project Title: Equity in a Warming World: The Global South and the Making of the International Climate Regime, 1972-2022
Winter 2022

Nainvi Vora
PhD Candidate in History of Art & Architecture
Project Title: Women Sculptors and the Rise of South Asian Modernism
Winter 2022

Undergraduate Students

Swetabh Changkakoti ‘24
Intern, Data For India
Summer 2023
Arman Deendar ‘24
Project Title: Anti-colonial resistance and Decolonization in Goa
Summer 2023

Justin Dyer ‘25
Intern, Peak Sustainability Ventures
Summer 2023

Anushka Kataruka
Data Journalism Intern, The Hindu
Summer 2023

Hamsa Shanmugam
Project Title: Thēvāram: A Musicological Analysis
Summer 2023
Grace Cardogno
Program Manager
grace_cardogno@brown.edu

Bronte Dinges
Events & Communications Coordinator
bronte-dinges@brown.edu

Rhythm Rastogi
Interim Program Manager